

TRUSTED ANSWERS TO DATA PROTECTION QUESTIONS

Only Thomson Reuters Data Privacy Advisor™ combines premier global legal and regulatory information, Practical Law® know-how, and artificial intelligence to deepen your expertise and help you be more confident in your decisions.

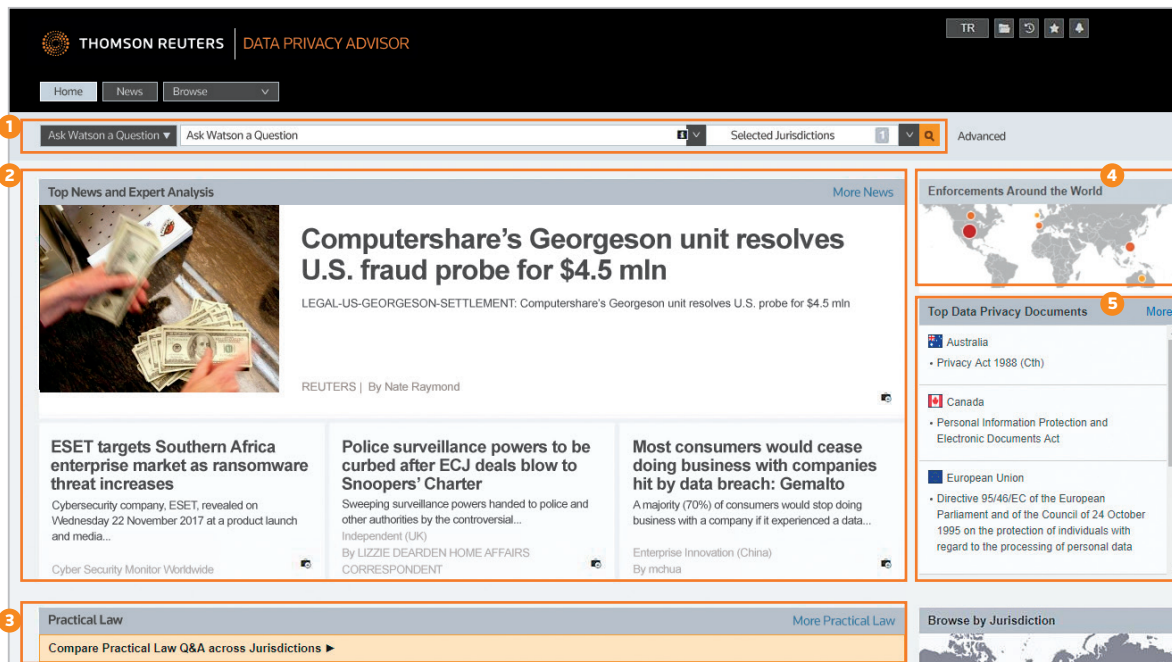

With today's intense focus on data protection, how can you know all the rules and regulations for every jurisdiction in which your organisation does business?

Data Privacy Advisor brings you global data protection resources, coupled with IBM Watson® capabilities* to deliver answers to your most pressing questions.

Now you can better define clear and concise data protection policies; prevent, respond, and protect against data protection issues; and provide strategic data privacy direction to leadership with a learning system that gets smarter the more you use it.

With Data Privacy Advisor, you can:

- Get relevant answers to your research questions
- Feel assured your research is more complete
- Understand your data protection requirements
- Be alerted to news and trends in time to act
- Understand regulations easily across jurisdictions
- Collaborate with colleagues by sharing research folders

Your one stop for data protection guidance:

- 1 Enter a question and receive full-sentence answers that include a confidence ranking*
- 2 Stay current on news and trends
- 3 View expert data-protection guidance from Practical Law
- 4 See where regulatory agency enforcements have been taken or levied
- 5 Access top documents by jurisdiction

*Ask Watson a Question is a next-generation question-answering feature that is in beta. Thomson Reuters Center for Cognitive Computing and IBM Watson partnered to build the world's first question-answering feature for global privacy compliance. It is a "learning system," meaning the feature continues to get smarter with user interaction.
